Note: for an application to the Beginning Farmer and Rancher Development Program (BFRDP), commitment letters are required to be included with the application as evidence of the partners’ roles in the project and commitment to the management plan. Pledge letters, which document matching support (often, but not always, from many of the same partners), had been required in applications in prior years, but are not required at the time of application in 2017. Instead, pledge letters will be requested later only from applicants of highly-ranked proposals, as part of the “Just-In-Time” pilot, which streamlines the application process by allowing applicants to submit certain supporting documents only once a grant is recommended for an award. See the Request for Applications (RFA) at https://nifa.usda.gov/funding-opportunity/beginning-farmer-and-rancher-development-program-bfrdp for more information.
